SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

Facts and Figures Relative to Schools and Scholars throughout the State.

[illegible] secretary of Sunday schools for [illegible] the following report, which was [illegible] to the convention to-day:

The system inaugurated two years ago of seeking and securing information [illegible] the work of schools throughout the state by county secretaries has been continued during the past year. [illegible] throughout the year, [illegible] it was hoped [illegible] has been considerable progress [illegible] last year. One hundred and [illegible] schools have been found to exist above the number known before. [illegible] were organized since my last report. Thirty-five more reports [illegible] than to the previous one.

The chief difficulties in the way of the higher success of my work are these:

First. There are not many schools that keep records of any items whatever, and therefore have no data from which to compile reports to this convention when called upon to do so.

Second. But few seem to see the usefulness or [illegible] of responding promptly to calls for statistical or other information. The county secretaries find this a serious embarrassment. A large number of schools are unreported here simply because some do not realize that such reports might and would become important items in the proper development of our general Sunday school work.

The figures of my report are comparatively meager. Six counties only give the full number of schools existing in them, while but one county reports all its schools. We may not therefore rely upon this showing as a fair representation of the strength of Sunday schools in the state. But it is the fullest report ever yet made, and I may say, the best that could be made under the circumstances. The work of collecting and compiling statistics has only been set on its feet, in this state, and time will be required to produce results that will give satisfaction.

Among other suggestive facts designed in the report, I may be allowed to call attention to the immense field yet uncultivated. Comparing the number of scholars in the Sunday schools with the number at our public schools we find one point upon which we may expend careful and profitable thought. Turning to other items in the reports of county secretaries, and not embraced in the general tables, we find other matter for consideration.

I will close this survey by appealing to all to assist in making up a full report of our schools for future conventions.

Following are the principal items in the general table of statistics, showing the number of schools and scholars in the state:

Baker County—C. T. [illegible], secretary. Eight schools, representing 27 teachers and 218 scholars; total membership, 245; [illegible] school population, 860.

Benton—Rev. J. Bowersox, sec. Fifteen schools, all reported; 129 teachers, 741 scholars; total, [illegible]. Scholars in public schools, 2130.

Clackamas—Rev. J. H. Teale, sec. Thirty-two schools, 10 reported; 176 teachers, [illegible] scholars; total, 6[illegible]. Scholars in the public schools, 2804.

Clatsop—E. C. Holden, sec. [illegible] schools [illegible] reported, 49 teachers, 261 scholars; total, 310. Public school enrollment, 626.

Columbia—Five schools, 1 reported, 7 teachers, 24 scholars; total, 31.

Curry—Rev. C. E. Phillerook, sec. One school in the county which has five teachers and a total membership of 36. Public school enrollment, 182.

Jackson—Rev. R. J. Sharp, sec. Reports 4 schools with 31 teachers and a membership of 320. Public school enrollment, 1,321.

Lane—Rev. C. A. Wooley, sec. Has 23 schools; reports from 15 show 117 teachers, with a total membership of 912. Public school enrollment, 3375.

Linn—Rev. I. Dillon, D. D., sec. Twenty-nine schools in county, 13 reporting, showing 102 teachers and 930 total membership. Public school enrollment, 3322.

Marion—Rev. J. M. Dennison, sec. Twenty-eight schools, 24 of which report 227 teachers with a total membership of 1853. Public school enrollment, 5528.

Multnomah—Rev. A. W. Bussey, sec. Has 36 schools, 34 reporting 405 teachers and a total membership of 3550. Public school enrollment, 4452.

Polk—Rev. J. D. [illegible], sec. Reports [illegible] schools with [illegible] teachers and [illegible] total membership. Public school enrollment, [illegible].

Tillamook—H. M. K. Porter, sec. Reports [illegible] of 4 schools with 11 teachers and [illegible] membership. Public school enrollment, [illegible].

Umatilla—Rev. H. W. Kennedy, sec. Reports 5 out of 12 schools, giving 51 teachers and 4 [illegible] scholars, 517. Public school enrollment, 2041.

Union—Rev. J. J. Kinkennon, sec. Reports 6 out of [illegible] schools, with [illegible] teachers and 272 members. Public school enrollment, 1221.

Wasco—J. N. Pedlock, sec. Reports 4 out of [illegible] schools, with 29 teachers and 321 scholars. Public school enrollment, 1469.

The following reported from Washington territory:

[illegible]

Meeting adjourned with [illegible].

To-day's Programme.

[illegible]

NEWS BY CABLE.

The Crew of the Dakamin? Wrecked Steamer not heard from.

IRELAND'S GREAT MURDER TRIAL.

An Apology to General Wolseley—The Sultan of Turkey believes himself to be the New Prophet of Islam.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

London, Nov. 14.—A dispatch from Portsmouth [illegible] Westphalia's pilots [illegible] kept constantly [illegible] in order to keep [illegible]. She will be docked to-morrow. It is feared the unknown steamer was lost with all on board.

BOATS OF THE [illegible] BY THE CREW.

London, Nov. 14.—Capt. Luther, of the steamer Westphalia, states that the steamer with which his vessel came into collision yesterday, turned lights at her masthead for two hours after the collision occurred and the crew [illegible] time to escape. He believes they [illegible] their boats and is very hopeful [illegible] will be heard from in course of time. The Westphalia will forward all her passengers direct to London and herself proceed to Hamburg [illegible] trip. This will probably be to-morrow, as [illegible] risks are not serious.

Nothing has yet been heard from the first officer's boat and its half dozen men.

The Joyce Murder Trial.

Dublin, Nov. 14.—The trial of Patrick Joyce on the charge of being a participant in the massacre of the Joyce family at Maamtrasna, began before Judge Barry to-day. An other prisoner accused of the murder turned approver and a case seems likely to be freely made out. Philbin, the approver, gave his evidence against the prisoner [illegible] presented a de[illegible] sullen appearance and evidently had no sympathy with his own part in the prosecution. His testimony nevertheless confirmed the story already published that ten men went to Joyce's house. He saw Patrick Joyce, the prisoner, enter the door. Witness then ran away and as he fled heard behind him from the house, shouts of "murder" and screams for "help."

Parliament Gossip.

London, Nov. 14.—The government party is preparing to accept modifications of the second closure resolution, that a motion for adjournment at question time be granted if demanded by 40 members. The Irish will oppose this as putting them at a disadvantage beside the great English parties. Gladstone intends making a statement of the financial questions involved by the employment of troops in Egypt.

An Apology to Wolseley.

Dublin, Nov. 14.—The Freeman's Journal is out with a leader in which it offers an apology for its recent accusations and harsh language against Gen. Wolseley and against offering him the freedom of the city. It says Wolseley has written a letter stating that it has earnest desire to see Ireland a loyal, peaceful, prosperous land.

Trial of Rioters.

Vienna, Nov. 14.—Examination of persons arrested for participation in the late riots shows it was chiefly the work of socialists and anti-Jewish leaders. Twenty-five thousand bills with anti-Jewish [illegible] were seized by the police, who are preparing a list of those implicated for expulsion from the country. Horwarth, the [illegible] conspirator, at whose house in Lithegas the bombs, etc., were found Saturday, has been released.

Decides against the Vatican.

Rome, Nov. 14.—The court of appeals has delivered an opinion authorizing [illegible] to pronounce judgment in all civil suits between Italian subjects and persons belonging to the Vatican. Jesuits [illegible] that the clergy, Austrian, Spanish and Portuguese governments have sent to their representatives [illegible] to support the vatican against this decision.

French Finances.

Paris, Nov. 14.—The minister of public works, [illegible] the budget [illegible] it is estimated that [illegible] francs only were available for public works [illegible] Ferrard [illegible] 150,000,000 francs [illegible].

A New Prophet in Islam.

Constantinople, Nov. 14.—[illegible] to celebrate the 1300th year of [illegible] the Sultan is [illegible] Islam. [illegible] prophet of Islam [illegible] and the streets [illegible] festivities.

A Mutual Understanding.

Paris, Nov. 14.—The Post, in an article directed against the French government [illegible] coalition against Germany and England, but [illegible] that Germany and England [illegible].

A Costly Present.

Berlin, Nov. 14.—The German people will present the crown prince, Frederick William, and his consort Victoria, at their approaching silver wedding, Jan. 25th, with a complete service [illegible], together with furniture for the [illegible]. The whole present will cost about half a million marks.

Execution against Spain.

Madrid, Nov. 14.—A telegram from Manila states that a body of native insurgents [illegible] attacked the Spanish troops [illegible] with a loss of 70 killed. The [illegible] was 20 killed and wounded. Order has been restored.

PARLIAMENT.

House of Commons.

Commons, Nov. 14.—In commons, [illegible] regarding Egypt [illegible] that the government [illegible] have 12,000 British troops remain [illegible] for any great length of time. [illegible] enter into convention with [illegible] have an article of the treaty [illegible] the troops [illegible] that when [illegible] the question of charge [illegible] decided definitely. He hoped [illegible] give such information as would [illegible] to fully discuss the subject when [illegible] presented. He also hoped soon [illegible] information regarding the [illegible] cost of the expedition.

Sir Stafford Northcote expressed his dissatisfaction at the meagre character of the statement. [illegible] asked whether this [illegible] would be submitted to the house this session.

Gladstone was unable to say [illegible] what date the convention would be completed and ready to submit [illegible] replied that the government had [illegible] decided whether any claim for expenses should be made on Egypt.

[illegible] as compared to [illegible].

[illegible] Kilmainham treaty [illegible] to amend it to [illegible].

The committee appointed to [illegible] the [illegible] Dwyer Gray [illegible] report against Justice [illegible] who did his duty in the case.

Landlords and Tenants.

London, Nov. 14.—The first annual report of the land commission [illegible] the [illegible] tenants to purchase holdings [illegible] thought a number of [illegible] are not operative [illegible] the total amount of assistance [illegible] considering the large [illegible] there have been disposed of at a rate [illegible] 500 per month.

EGYPTIAN EVENTS.

England and France Agree.

Paris, Nov. 14.—Figaro [illegible] dispatch from Cairo [illegible] that the government of England and France have entered into [illegible] the agreement [illegible] in regard to the control of the [illegible] says that France has accepted [illegible] an offer of England [illegible] the presidency of the [illegible] to France as a [illegible] control [illegible] away with the present [illegible] the finances of [illegible] two governments in [illegible] Egypt [illegible] in accord with the other great powers [illegible] already obtained assurances.

Sacramento, Nov. 14.—Gov.-elect Stoneman yesterday filed his resignation as railroad commissioner with Gov. Perkins. It is to take effect [illegible].

NEVADA.

Mining Matters.

Virginia, Nov. 14.—Several mining men have visited the north end mines. While the amount of ore found was not great, a majority were well pleased with the outlook.

At the north end of the Sierra Nevada main drift in the 2700 foot level there is a streak of rich ore a foot to two feet wide liable to lead to a good body when followed down. It appears to be [illegible] of an ore body.

The ore body in the 2600 foot level of the Union is considerably split up, but may lead to a valuable deposit above or below.

Tombstone, Nov. 14.—E. D. Williams, who killed [illegible] of this city, [illegible] was arrested at Benson yesterday. He has also [illegible] was on his way to California. He is now in jail. [illegible] self-defense.

Another "Billy the Kid."

William Claiborne, alias Billy the Kid, was killed this morning at the Oriental saloon in this city, by Frank Leslie, alias Buckskin Frank. The parties quarrelled, when the Kid armed himself with a Winchester, returned to the saloon and waited outside for his opponent. Leslie [illegible] and the Kid opened fire at a distance of 15 feet and missed. Leslie drew his revolver and returned the fire, the shot [illegible] through the body, [illegible] wounding him. He lived but an hour after being shot. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide. Both parties have killed their men.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV. 15, 1882.

DEMOCRATIC POLICY.

Samuel J. Randall of Philadelphia is an oracle of the democratic party. He represents one of the strongest protectionist districts in the United States, and is regularly elected to congress every two years by the solid support of a large class of people, republicans and democrats, who are interested in having a democrat in congress as one of the representatives of a great manufacturing city, who can neutralize or check the anti-protection tendencies of that party, and who may always be depended on to be loyal to the extent of his ability and power. Mr. Randall has been a long time in congress, during which period he has been elected speaker as often as his party has controlled the house, and no doubt will be elected again. As speaker he has done the work appointed for him and done it thoroughly;—that is, he has protected the protective system to its fullest extent. He organized the committees in that interest and thus forestalled every purpose and effort to modify the extreme features of the tariff system. To him it was chiefly due that the democratic party, during the six years it controlled the house of representatives, made no advance towards the fulfillment of its promises on this subject. Elected once more, Mr. Randall now again finds a democratic majority in the house; and he takes an early opportunity to deliver his views upon matters of public policy which may be involved in the political change.

He does not say he is in favor of protection in itself. It would not be good judgment in him to declare openly for a policy which much the larger section of his party distinctly rejects. Indeed he says he does not favor protection simply for the sake of protection, intimating that this would be class legislation and therefore unconstitutional. But to fortify the protective system in the strongest possible manner, which is evidently his wish and design, he declares that the whole internal revenue system must be and will be swept away. What does this signify? Simply free liquors and free tobacco, since there is little internal revenue not derived from these articles. Everything else must be taxed, but liquors and tobacco must be free. These articles now pay a revenue of one hundred millions yearly. In so far as the tax is a restriction upon their use it is a good one. In so far as it produces a revenue it is excellent in its purpose and effect. The tax is easily collected. It amounts to a vast aggregate sum. Since revenue is necessary this tax is the last one that ought to be removed. But, Randall sees that if it is removed duties on imports must be kept at a very high rate to procure the revenue required. This, with a desire to play the demagogue by talking of a reduction of taxes, is at the bottom of his declaration.

Randall's authority in his party lends a good deal of significance to this statement of what his party proposes to do with its power in the next congress. The first movement toward carrying the policy into effect will be the election of Randall to the speakership. Then an effort will be made to "cut under" the republican party on the question of protection. But this will fail, because the republican party will claim and maintain its proprietorship over the policy of protection, and a large section of the democratic party will be disgusted with the effort of Randall and his coadjutors to commit them to the support of protectionist views. The main thing to be kept in mind is the fact that the taxes on liquors and tobacco ought not to be removed, at least while we pay taxes on sugar, salt, clothing, coal, iron, and a thousand other articles of absolute necessity for daily life.

THE COLUMBIA BAR.

On very good authority we are able to state that the engineers who visited the Columbia bar a short time since to make an examination with a view of determining whether any plan of improvement was feasible and if so what one would be best, have unanimously agreed to recommend a plan substantially in accord with that suggested by Col. Gillespie at the time that officer was stationed here. It is not doubted by the engineers that the plan will be entirely successful. What they propose is indeed a modification of the methods suggested by Col. Gillespie, but the effect will be the same. He proposed first a rubble wall, beginning just below Fort Stevens and extending as far as might be necessary in a northwesterly direction so as to turn the volume of the river toward the middle or north channel. But as a wall of this description would be very costly, he proposed afterwards to substitute piles sunk by hydraulic force, the spaces between them to be filled with stone. The abundance of fresh water would protect the piles from the teredo; and a wall so constructed, a mile or more in length, would reduce the width of the channel and increase its depth. The engineers who recently visited the spot regard the plan as a perfectly feasible one. They favor, however, a somewhat different method of carrying it out. Instead of a rubble wall or a line of piles filled in with stone, they suggest that a foundation be laid on brush mattresses and stone deposited thereon till a sufficient mass be accumulated, the whole to extend as far out as may be desired. The cost will depend, of course, on the length of this mole or wall. Half a million dollars may carry it out far enough to narrow the channel till the depth be sufficiently increased. If not, it may be carried out till the desired object is attained at proportionate cost. There is excellent authority for the statement that the engineers have unanimously agreed upon this plan. They believe the bar may be improved with little difficulty and at no great cost as compared with other works undertaken by the government. An effort will be made to get an appropriation at the coming session of congress, so that the work may begin next spring. Mr. George, it is understood, will make a special effort, as a member of the house committee on commerce to get an appropriation, on the recommendation of the engineers. He came within one vote of getting it in committee last winter, and only failed because a board of engineers at New York, who had never seen the bar, had recommended that nothing be done at the present time. The committee, however, granted authority for appointment of a special board of engineers to visit and examine the spot, with the understanding that the report of this board would determine what should be done. Since it is known that the report will be very favorable, Mr. George may now renew his effort with great hope of success. It is needless to enlarge on the importance of this improvement. It is a matter of highest moment to the people of the whole of the great valley of the Columbia.

Page is beaten in the second district of California by 743 votes, with Alpine county to hear from, which cast only 105 votes in the last presidential election, of which more than half were democrats. The chief cause of Page's defeat was the "flop" of San Joaquin county. Heretofore republican, that county this time threw 1091 majority against Page. James H. Budd, Page's successful competitor, came to Portland about two years ago with the intention of entering upon the practice of the law at some point in the northwest, but after a look here and at Walla Walla he decided to return to California.

Beauty is far ahead of brains in this age. Mrs. Langtry gets $6000 from Sarony for the right of photographing her. And every expression of Mrs. Langtry upon American institutions, American manners and American scenery is being quoted, just as if Mrs. Langtry's opinions amounted to anything, or as if Mrs. Langtry was capable of formulating an original or really valuable idea upon anything.

WHY THE EXPRESS IS USED.

If the postmaster general would employ a portion of his energies in perfecting the service which he supervises, people who desire their letters carried safely and promptly might see less reason to patronize the express companies as letter carriers. On this coast Wells, Fargo & Co. are depended on by large numbers who have found them more sure, prompt and efficient than the servants of the United States. The fact is our postal service reflects the worst faults of our political system. It is used by politicians to furnish places for their "workers" and strikers, without regard to the fitness of the men for their official duties. It becomes a hospital in which persons are to be stowed away with pensions as a reward for their services to politicians, with no regard whatever to their efficiency for the work which the postal service requires. Until the postoffice can be reformed, the control of it taken out of the hands of political bosses and their agents, and the service put on a basis of efficiency, the postmaster general would do well to let the express companies alone. A great many persons pay three or four times the government rate to get their letters carried by express; and they do it only because they are sure of prompt and responsible service.

Yesterday's Salem Statesman contained an editorial statement to the effect that Gov. Moody had approved a contract made between the superintendent of the penitentiary and the firm of Goldsmith & Loewenberg of this city, whereby the convict labor of the state had been leased to that firm for a term of ten years at 40 cents per day of ten hours labor. The statement was premature, to say the least. Such a proposition has been made to the governor, but as the law under which the governor and superintendent are authorized to make such lease does not go into effect until January 20, 1883, the contract has not been nor can be completed until that date. The indications are that satisfactory arrangements will be made whereby the leasing of convict labor to responsible parties may materially reduce the expenses of the penitentiary. It is also possible that before the proper time arrives for the completion of such contracts even more advantageous terms may be made with other responsible parties.

General Sheridan has published a pamphlet of 120 pages entitled the "Record of Engagements with Hostile Indians within the Military Division of the Missouri from 1868 to 1882," in which is told the story of the many bloody encounters with the wild tribes of the plains in language calculated to lead the reader to believe that the Indian is always in the wrong and the white man always in the right. But it must be borne in mind that the history is written by the white man and the red man's story finds no place in it. If the Indian could speak or write a different phase would be placed on that part of the history of our army which relates to its dealings with the Indians. Col. Manypenny, of Columbus, Ohio, says the Journal, of that city, has written the most accurate history of our Indian intercourse that has ever been published, and it should be read in connection with General Sheridan's report, for it shows up the army treatment of the Indians in its true colors.

In its search for reasons for the defeat of certain members of congress the New York Tribune is wide of the mark. Certainly the river and harbor bill did not defeat Page of California. He got a great deal for his state in that bill, all of which was received gladly; but it was forgotten, and various questions of a local and personal character decided the election against him. Among Page's achievements was a large appropriation for improvement of the San Joaquin river, in which the people of that valley were very much interested; and yet San Joaquin county, including the city of Stockton, which was benefited more by it than any other part of the valley, took a wayward turn and beat Page. But it certainly did not beat him for getting the appropriations it wanted. There is often a strange perverseness in the way the American voter uses his ballot, and there is no use in trying to account for it.

The legislature of Texas recently passed a law regulating the passenger rates to be charged by railroads in that state, fixing the same at three cents a mile. But one through line to the Pacific coast is amenable to this law,—the Missouri Pacific. The branch known as the Texas and Pacific runs from Texarkana to El Paso, and by the action of the legislature it is unable to compete with other Pacific roads under their terms of agreement regarding Pacific coast business. To settle this question a meeting of general passenger and ticket agents of Pacific lines was held at Chicago last week at which it was virtually agreed that the Union Pacific, Central Pacific, and Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, roads would accept $5 less as their proportion. The present proportion of the Pacific roads on California passenger rates is $100, therefore the new one will be $95.

Vermont may claim to be the banner state of legislative temperance. She has now a stringent liquor law, but the temperance people not satisfied with that, have got before the legislature a constitutional amendment by which the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, other than cider and wine made from the fruits of that state, are forever prohibited; and providing also that the sale of the said cider and wine shall be so regulated as to prevent drunkenness. But even this is not enough. The woman's Christian temperance union says that another amendment will be presented at the earliest possible date to abolish even the native wine and cider. We fear this is pulling the bands so tight that they will all burst.

The great excitement in petroleum in eastern markets and the high prices at which the article is now quoted are the result of the operations of a powerful syndicate at Pittsburg, formed for the purpose of restricting production of petroleum and by that means "bulling" the market. The effort so far is meeting with success. Crude petroleum has been forced up from 65 cents to $1 35 per barrel, and the managers of the scheme boast that they will have "two-dollar oil within ninety days."

In eastern cities there is now talk of introducing fire-proof scenery and boxes into theaters. As the majority of theaters are now constructed they are mere tinder boxes. The Chicago Inter-Ocean says "there is too much trifling with human life at most theaters, and if managers will not protect their patrons the civil authorities should interfere." It is suggested to compel managers to restrict their audiences to the actual seating capacities of their houses.

Although Stoneman is elected by a plurality of over 20,000, and by a clear majority of about 15,000, he has obtained fewer votes than Hancock received when the latter carried California by less than 50 votes over Garfield. But of course a good many republicans voted for Stoneman, and some of the stay-at-home voters were democrats.

Ex-Gov. Woods, formerly of Oregon, who was a candidate for congress in the fourth district of California, was beaten by about 2500. But his vote in the district was ahead of that of the republican candidate for governor.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.

Rev. L. A. Banks, of [illegible], Presented with a Gold Watch.

[illegible]

Mr. Banks was deeply moved, his utterance was almost choked with intense feeling as he replied:

My Dear Friends: I never felt before so keenly what poor things words are to express the deepest feelings of our hearts. I am overwhelmed by a sense of your great kindness to me. In the years I have spent with you, though there has been in them much of trouble and suffering, yet in no way have they been so marked in my memory as by the universal kindness and love of my own church and congregation. I feel that very few pastors have received such devoted and unlimited support as you have given me. It makes me very happy to believe that this beautiful gift means something more than an expression of your good will to me, that it is an indication of your sympathy with the cause of righteous temperance reform, which lies so near to my heart, and is dearer to me than any personal good. My dear, dear friends, I can say nothing more than to thank you with all my heart and to pray God to make me worthy of your trust.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Whipple, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Lonsley, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Flores, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Harrell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. J. W. Mattson, John Jaygy, Jr., George Leward.

THE BLOOMFIELD-PETRAIN WEDDING.

Yesterday Hon. N. K. Bloomfield, of Vancouver, was married in that city to Miss Maria Petrain, High Reverend Bishop Junger officiating. The bride is the youngest daughter of the late Judge Joseph Petrain, one of Clarke county's honored pioneers of old Hudson bay times, and is highly accomplished and popular. Mr. Bloomfield is recognized as one of the brightest young lawyers of the territory, and an earnest, eloquent speaker. The couple left for Salem yesterday afternoon, where they will spend several days.

THE JOHNS-ELLIS WEDDING.

Hon. Charles A. Johns, county judge of Polk county, was married at 8 o'clock last evening in the parlors of the Esmond house to Miss Mabel Ellis, of Dallas, Rev. T. L. Sails, of East Portland, officiating. The young couple who came down from Dallas were accompanied by Mr. M. M. Ellis and wife, the parents of the bride, Miss Mattie Ellis, Miss Jennie Howell, and Messrs. S. N. Smith, L. Brittman and W. C. Ellis, who were present at the marriage and who are stopping at the Esmond.

NOTES.

Mr. L. Thanhauser left last night for New York, to be gone two months.

Willamette tribe No. 1, Improved Order of Red Men, will hold their eighth annual ball on Thanksgiving night, the 30th inst., at Turn Halle.

BRIEF MENTION.

Council meeting to-night.

Already signs are visible that Christmas is coming. Fancy goods dealers are unpacking large cases and dolls, drums and toys of all kinds are coming to the front.

The case in Justice Davis' court against L. Housekeller, charged with stealing a watch from Henry Myers, was dismissed yesterday, it being proven that Housekeller had given the watch to a party to take care of, telling him that it was not his own.

Dan Owens, a dissipated painter, was arrested yesterday by Constable Lichtenthaler, on a charge of larceny preferred by Ab Lawrence who accuses him of stealing his hat from the Narrow Gauge hotel. Dan has been up in the police court "several" times as a d. d. but this is the first time that a charge of so serious a nature has been preferred against him.

THE ORCHESTRAL UNION CONCERT.

Seats for the concert next Friday evening will be sold at Prentice's music store instead of Cornelius' drug store, as previously announced. The directors have decided to do away with reserved seats, and the lower part of the auditorium is to be set apart exclusively for subscription members. Single admission tickets will be sold only for the gallery. The programme is an excellent one and deserves a crowded house.

PRESERVING GAME.—Several members of the Rod and Gun club who have rented the shooting or lakes on Sauvie's island and in Washington territory, have hired men to keep watch and prevent outsiders from infringing on their rights. The words "gamekeeper" and "poacher" sound harsh to American ears but it seems that in this country, where nearly everyone owns a gun and knows how to use it, gentlemen sportsmen must protect their hunting grounds from the numerous professional and pot hunters, or otherwise be debarred from sport themselves. The Wapato lakes along the Columbia are said to be swarming with ducks, and the fortunate possessors of the parties who have secured the right to shoot over them may look forward to pre[illegible] or canvas back, as gentlemen [illegible], do not shoot for the market.

WINTER BOATING SCHEDULE.—On and after next Monday the upper Columbia boat will leave Ainsworth wharf every morning at seven o'clock making close connection via the old Cascades portage, for The Dalles arriving there between four and five P. M. The down river boat will leave The Dalles at seven A. M., making connection via the portage and arriving here about four P. M. Both boats will double the route every day and there will be no down boat on Sundays. Breakfast will be served on boats at both ends shortly after leaving time, and dinner at the usual hour. The lower river boat will carry the mail for Vancouver and other points on the Kalama territory side as heretofore. It is likely that the Wide West will be retained on the route and that the R. R. Thompson will be fitted as the transfer boat between Albina and Ainsworth wharf.

M[illegible] PICNIC.—The sale of reserved seats commences today at Cornelius' drug store.

IN CENTS PER 100 POUNDS.

Freight which, in less than car loads, is taken at first class, being included in class A when under car loads. It will thus be seen that agricultural implements, furniture, iron machinery, etc., are transported in car loads at rates figured on a reduction of forty per cent from existing tariff, the same general basis of reduction being carried out upon all other staple articles.

The benefit of the above reduced rates will be accorded only upon certain conditions and restrictions; carload freights being treated as a branch of traffic separate and distinct, in many important respects, from ordinary shipments of small consignments. These restrictions are embodied in the following general rules:

1. Carload rates will apply only upon straight carloads of one kind of freight, from one consignor to one consignee at one destination. They will not apply upon mixed carloads, although made up of freights of the same class. For example: Five tons of machinery and five tons of furniture, loaded in the same car, would not be taken as class "A." If, however, several shippers have each a quantity less than a carload of the same kind of freight for one consignee, they can avail themselves of the benefit of the carload rates by clubbing together and allowing one shipper to consign.

2. The minimum weight per car upon which carload rates will be allowed will be 20,000 pounds for standard gauge and 16,000 pounds for narrow gauge cars. Any shipment loaded so as to occupy a whole car will be charged the gross amount as if it weighed 20,000 or 16,000 pounds, as above.

3. The charge for less than a carload when loaded and unloaded by shipper and consignee, will in no case exceed the charge for a carload of the same kind of freight.

4. Carload freight must be loaded and unloaded by shippers and consignees, or at their expense.

5. The company will not permit cars to be loaded beyond their capacities. The capacities of all standard gauge cars are marked upon them.

6. Double regular tariff rates will be charged upon freight in any car loaded in excess of its capacity.

7. All chartered cars, or cars loaded with lumber, grain, etc., which is to be unloaded by owner or consignee, must be unloaded within twenty-four hours after their arrival at destination, or a charge of $5 per day will be made for each car after that time until unloaded. Cars given out to grain shippers or others to load must be loaded within twenty-four hours, or a charge of $5 per day will be made after the expiration of that time.

BAKER COUNTY NEWS.

FROM THE OREGONIAN'S LOCAL CORRESPONDENT.

BAKER CITY, Nov. 11.

Produce still continues high and firm.

Cold as blazes, north wind blowing [illegible] all the time.

At a school meeting held here last Thursday a five mill tax was voted by a large majority for the purpose of carrying on a school.

Messrs. Haines & Williams have formed a partnership in the practice of law. Baker City is a poor place for a lawyer to come to.

One of the curiosities of the ballot was that of the 7 votes cast against a tax only five ballots had the word "tax" correctly spelled. Most of the voters had spelled it "tacks."

The city election came off last Monday. Voters were subjected to a great many impertinent questions by the judges and the result was considerable lack of breaking up the election.

UNION COUNTY NOTES.

FROM THE OREGONIAN'S LOCAL CORRESPONDENT.

COVE, Nov. 10.

Timothy hay, $8 per ton.

Willowa valley claims 1000 inhabitants.

Ice formed one inch in thickness on the night of the 8th in Grand Ronde valley.

Grand Ronde valley is 2600 feet above the sea level and the highest mountains surrounding—Mount Emily and Mount Fanny—each are 4000 feet higher.

Flour being $8 a barrel in Union county, while only $4 in Umatilla, large quantities are being shipped here per freight teams over the Blue mountains.

The docket for the November term of circuit court, to begin at Union on the 13th inst., contains at present 50 cases, of which six only are criminal, 15 for divorce and 29 actions in law and equity.

NOTES FROM ALBANY.

FROM THE OREGONIAN'S LOCAL CORRESPONDENT.

ALBANY, Nov. 14.

The St. Charles Hotel is about ready to be plastered.

Very few empty houses in town; a great many strangers and farmers moving in.

The Parrish building is being fitted up for the firm of Peters & Blain. When completed it will be the most commodious storeroom in town.

Mr. Fred Eggert, who for several years has been in Mr. S. E. Young's store, left Monday for Portland to engage in the boot and shoe business.

Mr. M. D. Ballard has sold his interest in the Red Crown Mill to Capt. Lanning, formerly the bookkeeper. Mr. Ballard goes to Seattle to engage in the hardware business with Mr. E. F. Fox.
